Reading Comprehension

21.

Sam McKnight is one of the most famous hairdressers in the world. His clients have included Princess Diana, Kate Moss and Madonna. So when he tells you to wash your hair in bottled water, you wash your hair in bottled water.

What best describes the tone of the text above?

- a) critical
- b) informal
- c) cheerful
- d) sterile

22.

Here is a quick look at what British wild mushrooms are like - and which are to be avoided. If you're planning to pick wild mushrooms, you must invest in a field guide and ideally get some personal tuition. These descriptions are intended for the casual spotter. Colours in particular may vary.

The author of this believes readers _____ picking and eating their own mushrooms.

- a) can immediately begin
- b) should be cautious before
- c) are already knowledgeable about
- d) will get lost while

23.

Humans give off a fragrant cocktail of body odour, heat and carbon dioxide, which varies from person to person and mosquitoes use to locate their next meal. While most animals have a specific set of neurons that detect each type of odour, mosquitoes can pick up on smells via several different pathways, suggests the study, which is published in the science journal Cell.

Which of the following is closest in meaning to “several different pathways” used in the text above?

- a) diverse tracks
- b) many similar trails
- c) various methods
- d) specific distinct runways

24.

A group of men dressed in 19th-_____ costume enter the village square. They have puffy white shirtsleeves, embroidered vests and leather britches, they have brightly coloured flowers bedecking their hats. They are here to chase away winter, but they are not alone.

Which of the following best completes the blank in the text above?

- a) Century
- b) Centry
- c) century
- d) centry

25.

Spot it: Cyberbullying can cause kids to avoid using their phone or computer, or appear stressed when receiving an e-mail or text. They may act reluctant to attend social or school events or avoid conversations about school or friends. In extreme cases, the child will have declining grades, stop eating or have difficulty sleeping.

Which of the following is NOT cited as a sign of cyberbullying?

- a) poor grades
- b) mood swings
- c) reluctance to use a computer
- d) sleep trouble

26.

Whistling used to be commonplace, a useful thing to do while walking or washing the car. It was a pastime particularly favoured by dads. But nobody seems to do it these days. "The world tends to be a lot more hustle-bustle," says whistling virtuoso Robert Stemmons, who specialises in two-note harmony, warbling, trilling and an array of realistic bird calls. He also offers whistling lessons over the phone. "Whistling is one of the simple things being left by the wayside," he says.

Which of the following words best describes the tone of the text above?

- a) Wistful
- b) Whistleful
- c) Whistful
- d) Whistfoul

27.

Politics is the name of the game and, with a federal election looming and many state elections around the country to follow, it is here that we must strike. It is essential that First Nations people have a seat at the table and that we stand together to protect our country, our home. In some cases, we'll need to just build our own tables.

Which of the following most closely matches the meaning of “looming” as used in the text?

- a) producing fabric
- b) threatening
- c) in the distant future
- d) losing

28.

The phrase “they come in all shapes and sizes” could have been coined just for the Coleoptera — the beetles. At a fragile 0.325mm long, the Colombian featherwing (Scydosella musawasensis) has a good claim to being one of the smallest free-living insects in the world, and is tinier than many single-celled creatures. At the other end of the spectrum, the obviously named titan beetle, a huge Brazilian longhorn that can snap a pencil in its jaws, reaches 167mm – about 500 times the size.

Which of the following is the author’s purpose in the paragraph above.

- a) to impress readers with his knowledge
- b) to emphasize the variety of beetles in the world
- c) to spark readers’ imaginations
- d) to educate readers about an old saying

29.

One of the most bandied-about statistics regarding flavour perception is that it is 80% governed by smell. This often surprises people when they first hear it from a local know-it-all, as it really feels as if flavour is coming from our mouths, where the food or drink is. All becomes clear, however, when you try eating while holding your nose. Try it. I just ate a strawberry with my nostrils pinched and it was like water, with none of that blush sweetness. In fact, it's common when people first lose their ability to smell for them to think they have lost the use of their taste buds.

Which of the following best describes the tone of the article above?

- a) scholarly
- b) solemn
- c) relaxed
- d) joking

30.

Italy is to apply for Unesco status for espresso coffee, claiming it is “much more than a simple drink”. It follows the art of the Neapolitan pizza-maker being added to the UN agency’s list of the world’s intangible heritage in 2017 as Italy aims to secure the worldwide status for another of its successful symbols. “It is an authentic ritual ___ and an expression of our sociality that distinguishes us around the world,” said Gian Marco Centinaio, the agriculture undersecretary, confirming that the application had been submitted.

Select the appropriate punctuation from the list below that should be inserted in the text above.

- a) a comma ( , )
- b) a period ( . )
- c) a semi-colon ( ; )
- d) no punctuation should be used

- b) She needed medical attention.
- c) She fell asleep.
- d) She began to cry.

22.

From the animals that become dog and cat food and the puppy farms churning out increasingly unhealthy purebred canines, to the goldfish sold by the bag and the crickets by the box, pet ownership is problematic because it denies animals the right of self-determination.

Which of the following is likely to be the tone of the article which contains the above sentence?

- a) critical
- b) insincere
- c) mocking
- d) cheerful

23.

Asian giant hornets are an invasive species also known as murder hornets because they prey on smaller insects. Their nests are difficult to locate, as they tend to be in forested areas. In the US, they pose a particular threat to native hornet species and to honeybees.

What is the best equivalent of "invasive" in the text above?

- a) harmful and spreading quickly
- b) good at avoiding detection
- c) deadly or poisonous
- d) done or acting according to a fixed plan or system

24.

When a dog growls at you, is it angry? When a squirrel flees up a tree at your approach, is it fearful? When an elephant stands for days on a spot where another has died, is it grieving? If you live with an animal (the non-human kind) you might think the answer is obvious, but the scientific question remains tantalisingly open.

The author's purpose in the text above is which of the following?

- a) to answer common questions the reader may have
- b) to entice the reader to continue reading
- c) to surprise the reader
- d) to educate the reader about a niche topic

25.

The cassette is once again desirable. New and established bands have taken to releasing music on tape. From a base of basically zero, sales are way up: 129,000 pre-recorded tapes were sold in the US last year. To millennials, it _____, the cassette represents something between music and artefact.

- b) to provide statistical evidence
- c) to soften the impact of bad news
- d) to sadden the reader

28.

On the margins of a 13th-century manuscript written by Holy Roman Emperor Frederick II, are more than 900 illustrations of birds and falconers. Among the usual hawks, herons, and sparrows familiar to European readers are four sketches of a bird from further afield – an Australasian cockatoo. The images are believed to be the oldest European depiction of the bird, trumping a similar discovery in a 15th-century artwork, and have sparked a reassessment of trading routes that existed more than 700 years ago.

- a) exaggerated
- b) demoralizing
- c) informative
- d) humorous

29.

Women in medieval Japan were discouraged from studying kanji – characters modelled on written Chinese which represent individual words – and began using kana, which transcribe words phonetically. A standardisation programme at the beginning of the 20th century saw 90% of the 550 characters used in kana die out. But these forgotten characters are now being kept alive by the artist and master of Japanese calligraphy Kaoru Akagawa, who became fascinated with them after deciphering letters from her grandmother.

Select the best title for the paragraph above from the choices below.

- a) Women's Education in Medieval Japan
- b) The History of Japanese Script
- c) The Standardization of Japanese Writing
- d) Bringing back Women's Writing from the Brink

Reading Comprehension

21.

Tim Woda, a digital safety expert, explains: “Cyberbullies are often not the biggest kids on the playground or the meanest girls at school. To protect children against cyberbullying, parents need to be aware of what their kids are doing online and be willing to act quickly when they see a red flag.”

The expression “red flag” in the text has a meaning closest to which of the following?

- a) an opportunity for good parenting
- b) a rectangular piece of red fabric
- c) a sign of a problem
- d) an expert in psychology

22.

At this point, a glossary might be handy. “Fungi” is the overarching name for a kingdom of spore-producing organisms that feed on organic matter. “Mushrooms” are the fruiting bodies of fungi, the place where spores are produced. Mushrooms are sometimes compared to icebergs, because most of the activity is actually taking place under the surface, out of sight.

What best describes the tone of the text above?

- a) relaxed
- b) light-hearted
- c) scornful
- d) educational

23.

Doctors and nurses often “weight-shame” people who are overweight or obese, leaving them feeling anxious, depressed and wrongly blaming themselves for their condition, research has found. Such behaviour, although usually the result of “unconscious weight bias”, leads to people not attending medical appointments, feeling humiliated and being more likely to put on weight. The problem is so widespread around the world that health professionals need to be taught as students that excess weight is almost guaranteed in modern society and not the fault of individuals, so they treat people more sensitively.

The text above directly blames doctors and nurses for weight-shaming their patients.

- a) true
- b) false
- c) the information is not given

24.

Until about a month ago, I _____ I knew a fair bit about coffee. I patronised good coffee bars and knew my espresso from my macchiato; I drank decent coffee at home, too, albeit (I blush) from a Nespresso machine. But my appreciation of the stuff was all about the intensity and caffeine hit, and I now look back (with more blushes) at being offered filter coffee in a bar and thinking, “Why on Earth would I want to drink that?”

Select the word below that best fills the blank in the text above.

- a) though
- b) thought
- c) thout
- d) tough

25.

Plants make food to grow via photosynthesis (which means “putting together with light”) converting carbon dioxide and water into sugars using the energy in sunlight. This energy is captured by chlorophyll, the green pigment found in leaves and green parts of plants. The sugars produced by photosynthesis are transported around the tree and stored in the leaves.

- a) casual
- b) optimistic
- c) informative
- d) sincere

26.

About 87,000 young children are diagnosed with lead poisoning in the US each year, more than three decades after the neurotoxin was banned as an ingredient in paint, gasoline and water pipes. Today, lead lingers in houses and apartments, yards and water lines, and wherever states and communities ramp up testing, it becomes clear that the nation’s lead problem is worse than we realized, experts say.

Which of the following is closest in meaning to “ramp up” as used in the above paragraph?

- a) lessen
- b) increase
- c) analyse
- d) highlight

27.

All climbers seeking a permit for Everest must have prior high altitude mountaineering experience and demonstrable training, a high-level commission for the Nepalese government has ruled. The recommendation was issued by the body charged with looking at the issue of high-altitude safety after one of the deadliest seasons in recent years on Everest, which was blamed on inexperience and crowding near the summit.

Which of the following is NOT a reason cited in the text for the recent mortality rate on Everest?

- a) large groups near the top of the mountain
- b) lack of previous experience
- c) missing permits for climbing the mountain
- d) none of the above

28.

An investigation has found that hundreds of thousands of tons of US plastic are being shipped every year to poorly regulated developing countries around the globe for the dirty, labour-intensive process of recycling. The consequences for public health and the environment are grim.

Which of the following most closely matches the definition of grim as used in the text above?

- a) extensive
- b) bright
- c) bleak
- d) expensive

29.

INGÉNIEUR·E·S DE L'INNOVATION RESPONSABLE

Créé en 1980 par Marc Sellam, IONIS Education Group est aujourd'hui le premier groupe de l'enseignement supérieur privé en France. 29 écoles et entités rassemblent dans 27 villes en France et à l'international plus de 30 000 étudiants en commerce, marketing, communication, gestion, finance, informatique, numérique, aéronautique, énergie, transport, biotechnologie et création... Le Groupe IONIS s'est donné pour vocation de former la Nouvelle Intelligence des Entreprises d'aujourd'hui et de demain. Ouverture à l'international, grande sensibilité à l'innovation et à l'esprit d'entreprendre, véritable culture de l'adaptabilité et du changement, telles sont les principales valeurs enseignées aux futurs diplômés des écoles du Groupe. Ils deviendront ainsi des acteurs-clés de l'économie de demain, rejoignant nos réseaux d'Anciens qui, ensemble, représentent plus de 80 000 membres.
